

You're a rising leader in your organization and need to be ready to take the next step. But are you? You have to invest in yourself first. Building your leadership credentials requires more and more of your time and effort.

Leaders of Today and Tomorrow (LoTT) is a resource and networking portal for frontline managers, focusing on the needs and issues critical to you as an up-and-coming field leader.

GAMA International can help you accelerate your professional growth and stay ahead of the change curve. With new professional development resources, expanded networking opportunities, a broad array of award and recognition options, fresh research and an abundance of national leadership opportunities, LoTT provides the career development resources you need to enhance your competitive edge.

Yes I want to be part of GAMA International's new Leaders of Today & Tomorrow (LoTT) initiative!

Name _____

Address _____ City _____

State _____ Zip _____ Phone _____

Email _____

Title _____

Home Office Company _____

Field Agency (If Applicable) _____

Year of Birth _____ How many years have you been in the industry _____

Check here if you would like to volunteer on the LoTT Committee- Help enhance the career development and networking opportunities of field leaders who are 40 and under or who have fewer than five years of management experience.

Check here if you would like to write an article for the LoTT Spot in the GAMA International Journal

Please submit this form to membership@gamaweb.com or fax to 571-499-4302